The BOMA Project

Founded by Kathleen Colson and Ahmed 'Kura' Omar in 2005, The BOMA Project is a nonprofit organization and Kenyan NGO that empowers women in the drylands of Africa to establish sustainable livelihoods, build resilient families, graduate from extreme poverty, and catalyze change in their rural communities.

BOMA's gender-focused approach helps pastoral families by mapping the barriers to overcoming extreme poverty and then implementing a series of sequenced interventions with a defined exit strategy. Through community consultation, coaching, and gender-focused life skills and human rights training, BOMA aims to improve financial inclusion and access to credit among its members.

Since 2009, BOMA has helped launch 10,283 businesses and established 1,364 savings groups. In March 2018, BOMA surpassed the audacious goal of lifting 100,000 women and children in remote northern Kenya out of extreme poverty. BOMA aims to reach one million woman and children by 2022 in order to help these families avert a crisis of survival.

The BOMA Project has a presence in, or is expanding to the following countries:

- Kenya
- Uganda

COUNTRY SPECIFIC PROGRAMS

A Glimmer of Hope Foundation

A Glimmer of Hope Foundation is a nonprofit organization that helps lift women and children out of extreme poverty in rural Ethiopia. Glimmer believes the best way to affect sustainable change is to tackle all of the unique areas that perpetuate poverty. Rather than focus on a single issue like water or education, Glimmer's unique model of integrated development means that they work across many different sectors to bring deep, lasting change.

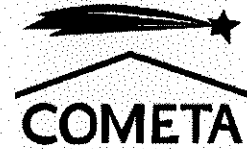

Glimmer's holistic approach centers around three primary sectors: Health and Water; Livelihood; and Education to bring about the deepest, most effective impact. Since foundation in 2000, A Glimmer of Hope has completed 10,000 projects and improved over 5 million lives across Ethiopia.

All of Glimmer's operating costs are fully covered by its endowment, which means that 100% of every donation can go directly to projects in rural Ethiopia that help fight poverty and improve lives.

A Glimmer of Hope solely operates in Ethiopia.

Yayasan Usaha Mulia – Foundation for Noble Work

Yayasan Usaha Mulia (YUM) - Foundation for Noble Work is a nonprofit organization that works to improve the quality of life of impoverished people and communities in Indonesia. Indonesia has seen widespread development, but with the fourth largest population in the world, there are still many areas with a severe lack of proper health, education and community services. Millions of families continue to live below the poverty line, surviving on less than two dollars a day. YUM has worked for more than four decades in this vast archipelago to support communities, to give them hope and a way out of the cycle of poverty.

YUM's mission is to work with communities to provide holistic and sustainable support in three service areas: 1) Health through health education, nutrition, clean water, sanitation, and malaria control; 2) Education through vocational training, school sponsorship, community libraries, early childhood learning, and tutoring & remedial education programs; and 3) Community Development through Cipanas YUM Village (community center), organic farming, and sustainable agriculture.

In 2018, YUM provided emergency relief for 12,950 victims of the earthquake in Palu and Donggala. The nonprofit sponsored 180 school-aged children and engaged 4,767 people to take part in trainings, sanitation campaigns, and water tower building in Central Kalimantan.

Yayasan Usaha Mulia (YUM) - Foundation for Noble Work solely operates in Indonesia.
